PROFILE

Aspiring software developer with an education from both a community college and software boot camp. Through my education I've developed several projects as an individual contributor and part of a team. My goal now is to continue growing and learning new technologies through a career as a full stack developer.

TECHNICAL PROJECTS

Game Buddy - Individual Project with three week deadline
A website displaying hundreds of multiplayer games prompting users to add them to their list.
 • Created a highly optimized React front-end with full user authentication and routing
 • Created a Ruby on Rails back-end utilizing BCrypt to encrypt user data
 • Incorporated the use of an external API with REST API.
 • Had to rebuild the website in under one week due to a complication with the external API

SEE THE PROJECT

Ticket Ruler - Team Project with four day deadline
A website for a venue to sell concert tickets and display upcoming concerts.
 • Connected a Ruby back-end with a React front-end for the first time
 • Implemented a basic user authentication
 • Created a many-to-many relationship using ruby models
 • Implemented full CRUD actions with persistence

SEE THE PROJECT

Pokémon Fetcher - Team Project with four day deadline
An app that randomly generates Pokemon that users can add to their team.
 • Leveraged an API to fetch Pokemon data
 • Dynamically rendered starter Pokemon on startup
 • Created a button to randomly generate Pokémon cards
 • Created a search bar to find a Pokemon by name or ID
